#5

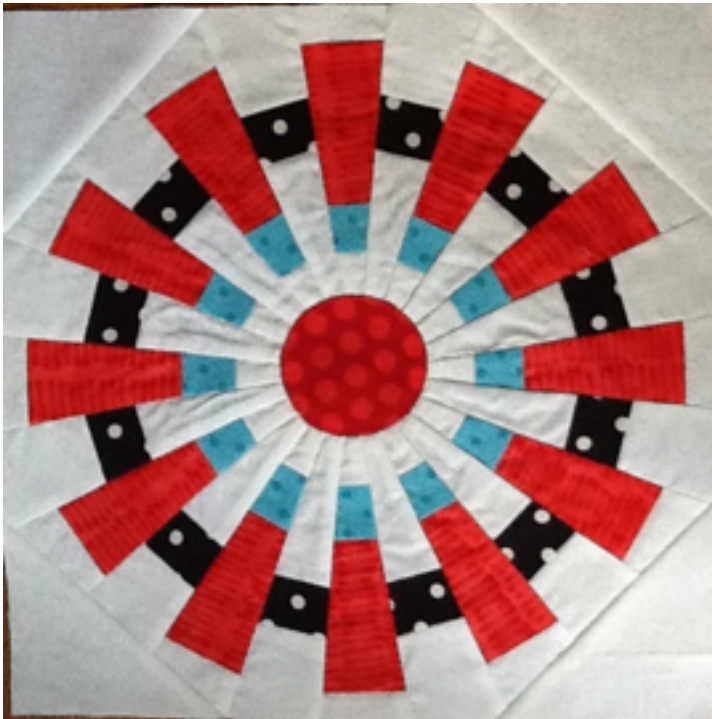

taught by Patti Cline

Patti Cline is 1/2 of The Quilter's Gallery. Together with her sister, Cindy Page, they operated The Quilter's Gallery, a full service quilt shop in Charlotte for 25 years. Since 2006 they have traveled, teaching and vending at quilt shows.

1 day class - Thursday

This class uses a wedge ruler and simple strip set to make a modern take on a dresden plate block. It might look like curves, but it is all straight line sewing. This quilt can be done in a smaller version, perfect for a table cover, baby quilt, or Christmas tree skirt.

Patti will have the necessary wedge ruler available in class. The small block ruler is $12 and the larger one is $23.45.

This class will teach the smaller block with instructions to adapt to the larger block. You will complete one full small block in the class. Patti will provide each student with a cutting tutorial via email prior to class. She will be in touch with you as soon as we have the class list.
