

Hello, Winter!

#8

taught by Cathi Gainey

Cathi has been dying her own wools, traveling up and down the east coast to sell her wools, teaching classes and giving lectures on wool dying for over 5 years. She has taught at QSC retreats for 5 years and has also taught at the following guilds: York County Quilters, Piedmont Piecers, Upcountry Quilt Guild, Sharon Baptist Church quilt group.

1 day class - Thursday

This class will teach wool appliqué on to a wool background to create a seasonal wall hanging. A different technique will be taught this year....learning to transfer text and other embroidery components on to wool. The finished project will be 12" x 18". No machine will be necessary for this class.

Class supplies:

Basic hand sewing supplies are needed

Ott light is recommended

Kit is required that will contain wool, pattern, needle and a few other essential items

Student will be supplying their own threads
